DENT'S CHRONOMETERS,

WATCHES and CLOCKS, have long held pre-eminent rank, as may be seen from Reports of various scientific persons:—

THE ASTRONOMER ROVAL (Sir G. B. AIRY), in his Report to the Admiralty (13th of August, 870) on forty Chronometers entered for annual competition, says of M. F. DENT's Chronometer:-

"THIS IS THE FINEST CHRONOMETER WE HAVE EVER HAD ON TRIAL."

'N.B.—The LATE ASTRONOMER ROYAL (J. POND, Esq.), reporting, in 1829, on the celebrated public trial, by order of the Lords of the Admiralty, which lasted thirteen years, during which nearly 500 Chronometers were tested, says:-

"Your Chronometer, No. 114, is entitled to the First Premium. Actual variation in the year, 54 hundredths of a second. This is superior to any other yet tried."

THE RUSSIAN IMPERIAL ASTRONOMER, M. STRUVE, of St. Petersburg, reporting upon eighty-one Chronometers tested by the Russian Chronometrical Expedition in 1843, says :-

"The DENT CHRONOMETERS have held FIRST RANK in a brilliant manner. They contributed, beyond dispute, the MOST EFFECTUALLY to the exactitude of the results. "M. STRUVE."

. By Command of the Emperor, the Russian Gold Medal of the Highest Order of Merit was presented to Mr. DENT.

The Report on Chronometers, Watches, &c., by the Judges at Philadelphia Exhibition, 1876, can be had on application.

INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, PHILADELPHIA (1876).

The Judges in their Report on the Exhibits of M. F. DENT, said of his Chronometers and Watches :-

"The Workmanship was of the First Order"; and of his Clocks, "They were representative of the highest achievements of his art."

MEDAL & DIPLOMA OF THE HIGHEST ORDER WERE AWARDED.

Sir H. M. Stanley's Testimony.

To the excellence of Chronometers supplied to him by M. F. Dent, and used in finding his longitude in his last Expedition, Mr. Stanley says in a letter, 5th July, 1890:—

"The Chronometers supplied by you, and which were taken across Africa in my late Expedition, proved of very great service to me, and were in every way thoroughly satisfactory and reliable." reliable.

SCOTTISH EQUITABLE

LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.

Established 1831. Incorporated by Royal Charters and Special Act of Parliament.

Head Office-28, ST. ANDREW SQUARE, EDINBURGH.
London Office-19, KING WILLIAM STREET, E.C.

President-HIS GRACE THE DUKE OF BUCCLEUCH AND QUEENSBERRY, K.T.

THE SCOTTISH EQUITABLE is a Purely Mutual Office. There are no Shareholders to absorb any portion of the profits, which are therefore wholly divided among the holders of Participating Policies. Its leading features are—Unquestionable Security, Liberal Conditions of Insurance, Complete and Liberal Non-forfeiture Regulations, and Early Participation in Profits. The Guaranteed Minimum Surrender Value is endorsed on each Policy issued.

The Premiums are calculated by Half-years of Age, so that those who insure within six months after a birthday will be charged a Lower Rate of Premium than formerly.

Position of the Society at 1st March, 1900:

Existing Assurances,	including	Bonus	Additions	;	 		£13,041,687 £508,798
Income					 		£508,798
Accumulated Funds				• •	 	• •	£4,318,035

NEW PLAN OF IMMEDIATE BONUS POLICIES .- Special attention is directed to this New Scheme, the rates under which are lower than the usual non-profit rates. The yearly premium payable at age 30 for an ordinary with profit policy for £1000 will assure £1,300 under this new plan, thus securing an Immediate Bonus of £300. Policies under this plan are peculiarly well adapted to provide for the New Death Duttles, because the exact sum assured is absolutely guaranteed, and the assured himself obtains the full benefit of the participation in profits.

CLAIMS are payable immediately after proof of death and title.

LOAMS are granted in connection with Life Insurance, on Life Interests, Reversions, and other approved security. The Directors are also prepared to entertain proposals for the sale of Reversions to the Society.

PREFACE.

HE seventh Session of the fourteenth Parliament of Her Majesty the late Queen Victoria (whose death has taken place, to the deep regret of the whole nation, just as this work is going to press) was prorogued on August 8th, 1900, and, as generally anticipated, was shortly afterwards dissolved, a General Election taking place at the end of September and the beginning of October, and the new House of Commons meeting for a brief Winter Session early in November.

It is always interesting after an appeal to the constituencies to note the composition and personnel of the new House, and in this the twenty-seventh Parliament of the United Kingdom, the legal profession is as usual the one best represented, some 142 Members having been either called to the Bar or admitted Solicitors, while over 60 gentlemen hold or have held commissions in the Naval, Regular, Militia, Yeomanry, or Volunteer Forces. Among the 670 Members of Parliament forming the House of Commons. there are 170 gentlemen who did not sit in the last Parliament, also 1 Peer, 49 Privy Councillors, 57 Baronets, 39 Knights, 47 Sons of Peers, and 30 Heirs to Peerages. The "Father of the House of Commons" is still the Rt. Hon. W. W. B. Beach, who was again re-elected for Hampshire, W., or Andover, Division, at the General Election, and has sat continuously in Parliament since 1857, the youngest M.P. being the new Member for Westmoreland N., or or Appleby, Division-Mr. Richard Rigg (junr.).

Although the General Election did not this time result in any change of Government, it was followed by numerous Ministerial changes, which, however, have not necessitated many Bye-elections, and the Parties in the House still remain in the same position as immediately after the Polls, and may at present (exclusive of the Speaker) be thus roughly divided:—Conservatives (C.) 334, Liberal Unionists (L.U.) 68, Liberals (L.) and Labour Members 185, and Nationalists (N.) 82, giving a Government majority of 135.

Such changes as have taken place since Parliament was elected will be found set forth on page ix, in a form suitable for ready reference, and it will be seen that 8 Bye-elections have been held, resulting in the return of 2 new Members; I M.P. has died; I has resigned, and been subsequently created a Peer; 4 have been sworn of the Privy Council; 2 have been made Baronets, while 2 have become "Honourable" on the elevation of their fathers to the Peerage; there are not any seats at present vacant, but 4 petitions are still undecided.

In the section devoted to Constituencies are given full election and polling statistics regarding the last two General Elections, and all Bye-elections covered by the same period, with the full names of both the successful and unsuccessful candidates, the number of Parliamentary Electors on the Register at the time of the last General Election, names of Returning Officers, extent of Constituencies, and much other useful information. It will be found in many instances that the Pollings here given do not always agree with those previously published, but the figures here entered may be taken as accurate, as they have been submitted to the Returning Officers for revision.

To render "Debrett's House of Commons and the Judicial Bench" a complete Parliamentary Guide, a condensed Peerage is added, giving names of Peers and their heirs, with their residences and clubs; also a full list of the Privy Council, and a section particularly useful to new Members, entitled "Explanations of Technical Parliamentary Expressions."

The Judicial Bench portion of the work includes detailed biographical notices of Judges of the Superior and County Courts of the United Kingdom, Recorders, Vice-Admirals of the Coast, Metropolitan and Stipendiary Magistrates, Sheriffs of Scotland, Colonial Judges, etc.

Appended to the biographies of many of these, as well as to those of M.P.'s, will be found illustrations of personal Armorial Bearings; and, although it is possible there may still be included amongst them a few Arms of Assumption, it is only desired to insert such as are of official heraldic authority.

Special acknowledgement and thanks are due to the Returning Officers, as well as to all those correspondents who by returning proofs and voluntarily supplying information have materially aided

THE EDITOR.

- Secondary names of Divisions, or, Boroughs, are inserted in alphabetical order throughout the section,—e,, "Spading, see Lincolnshire;" "Leamington, Lincolnshire;
- Divisions of Counties and Boroughs are given in alphabetical order by their primary title under the heading of their respective county, and not in the numerical order in which they appear in the "Redistribution of Seats Act." Divisions
- † Member sat in last Parliament for another constituency.
- * Unsuccessful candidate sat as a Member in last Parliament.

- [ ] Figure: between brackets after the title of a constituency show the number of members.
- Area of Constituency is given in statute acres, according to the returns made in the 1891 Census Report.
- Population and Acreage. Only the PARLIAMENTARY Populations as obtained at the last (1891) census are given under this head —i.e., in the case of Counties the Borough Populations have been deducted from the gross totals. The acreage of each constituency is also taken from the 1891 Census returns.
- When only the name of the Mem-ber is given, such Member was returned unopposed.

VICE-ADMIRALS OF THE COAST OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

[ADMIRALTY JURISDICTION.]

A VICE-ADMIRAL OF THE COAST is a Judicial and Ministerial Officer, representing the Lord High Admiral in his Civil, as distinguished from the Naval, capacity. The office is of great antiquity, but has fallen into some desuetude during the last hundred years. The letters patent of the appointment confer on this officer an Admiralty jurisdiction over the coast of the county for which he is appointed, and over the sea shore, public streams, and arms of the sea adjoining, with power to take cognizance within that jurisdiction of all causes, civil and maritime, and of crimes and offences. In time of war he has frequently impressed mariners for the Navy. The Sea Coast of England and Wales is divided into nineteen circuits, or Vice-Admiralties ;viz., (1) Northumberland, Durham and York, (2) Lincoln, (3) Norfolk, (4) Suffolk, (5) Essex, (6) Kent, (7) Sussex, (8) Southampton, (9) Dorset, (10) Devon, (11) South Cornwall, (12) North Cornwall, (13) Somerset, (14) Gloucester, (15) South Wales. #### EXPLANATION OF TECHNICAL

PARLIAMENTARY EXPRESSIONS.

WITH BRIEF DESCRIPTIONS OF THE

Duties of some of the Higher Officers of State.

ACCEPTANCE OF OFFICE. Under statute 6 Anne, c. 7, holders of offices of profit accepted from the Crown or the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, are incapacitated from a seat in Parliament, if the office be created since 1705. The acceptor of offices created prior to that year must vacate his seat and submit himself to re-election; but by the Reform Act, 1867, holders of the principal offices of State are no longer required to submit themselves to re-election, upon a transfer from one office to another. The principle established by the Statute of Anne has also been in the following manner modified and extended. The English, Scotch, and Irish judges, Colonial Governors, officers in the Excise or Customs, and Crown pen-sioners, are excluded from Parliament. Ambassadors, foreign ministers, and holders of diplomatic and civil service pensions are not excluded; and the four principal and four Under Secretaries of State, the Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Trade, the Postmaster-General, and the President of the Board of Agriculture, are not disqualified from being elected to or sitting in Parliament.

ADJOURNMENT of its sitting is solely in the power of each House of Parliament; but the power of each House of Parliament; but if both Houses be adjourned for more than fourteen days, the Crown may by proclamation direct them to re-assemble. Adjournment by the House of Commons (unless pursuant to a Standing Order) must be on question put and agreed to, except when there is "no House." Motions for the adjournment of the House are used as the menus of discussion. the House are used as the means of discussing a matter of which notice has not been given, but this power has been placed under limitations by the new rules of procedure. Adjournment of debate may be moved by any member who has not spoken to the original question, at any time before the question is fully put, but it cannot be moved in Committee, and discussion must, now, be kept strictly to the question of adjournment. ADMIRALTY, FIRST LORD OF THE.

Chief of the Commissioners, appointed to discharge the office of Lord High Admiral.

ALIENS are incapable of voting for the election of members of Parliament in England and Ireland, neither can they take their seats as members for any constituency.

AMENDMENT, AN. Is the mode by which the decision of the House on a question may be intercepted, by submitting for its consideration an alternative proposition, either wholly or partially opposed to the original question.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL, THE, is the chief legal adviser of the Crown; he exhibits informations and prosecutions for the Crown in matters criminal, and institutes suits in the Exchequer for anything concerning the Queen in inheritance or profit.

AUDITOR. [See Election Auditor.]

AVOIDANCE OF A DECISION, AN. be effected by proposing an amendment to the original question, or by substitution in its stead of another question, such as the adjournment of the House, or of the debate; "the previous question;" or "that the orders of the day be now read;" or by enforcing the adjournment of the House, owing to the absence of a queryment. absence of a quorum.

AYES. Members voting in favour of a motion.

BALLOT, THE. [See Election of Members.l

BANKRUPT MEMBERS are by statute rendered incapable of sitting and voting. At the expiration of six months after a mem-ber has become a bankrupt, his election is void, and a writ will issue for the election of another representative, unless in the mean-time the bankruptcy has been annulled.

[See Private Bills.] BILLS, PRIVATE.

BILLS, PUBLIC. In the House of Lords the consent of the House is not required to the introduction of a bill; in the Commons no bill can be brought in unless a motion for leave has received the assent of the House; and proposals for bills relating to taxation, and the grant of public money must be moved in a Committee of the whole House, having received the previous recommendation of the Crown. Leave given, the bill is brought in and read a first time without amendment or debate; though a division may be taken or the question. A day is then appointed for the second reading, previously to which the bill is printed, and each member supplied with a copy. Discussion of the principles of with a copy. Discussion of the principles of a bill may be held on any of its stages, except on going into Committee and on the stage of consideration as amended in Committee; but the most usual period for this discussion.

is the second reading. After being read a second time, the bill is referred to a Committee of the whole House, or to a Standing Committee, when the details are considered; and the bill is debated clause by clause, and the blanks filled up. The chairman of the committee then reports the bill to the House. This he does by stating to the Speaker that "the committee has gone through the bill," and either "made amendments thereunto" or "has directed him to report the same without amendment." If report the same without amendment, no amendment has been made, the bill is ordered to be read a third time either forthwith or on a future day; but if the committee have altered it, the bill is ordered to be considered as amended. If the amendments are considerable, it is customary to reprint the bill. On the consideration of a reprint the bill. On the consideration of a bill as amended, amendments may be made or new clauses (of which notice has been given) may be added, such as could have been proposed in Committee. On the third reading the judgment of the House is expressed upon the entire bill, and only verbal amendments can at this stage be made.

During the progress of the bill the House may divide on the following questions: reading; and, on the second reading; 3rd, that it be committed; 4th, that the bill be recommitted; 5th, that it be read a third time. These are exclusive of the divisions that may be taken on amendthe divisions that may be taken on amend-ments proposed to be made to the bill in committee, or on its consideration as amended. After the passing of a bill, the Clerk of the House takes it to the bar of the House of Lords, and desires its concur-rence. In the Upper House it passes through similar forms to those of the Commons. the Lords agree with the Commons in the principle of a measure, but differ on matters of detail, the bill is returned to the Commons, bearing the amendments the Lords propose: bearing the amendments the Lords propose-these are considered by the Lower House, and if disagreed to, the bill is returned back to the Lords with a message assigning reasons for the disagreement. If the difference be-tween the Houses be maintained, a conference (which see) may be held touching the amend-ments. Acts of amnesty are read only once in each House. Bills that have passed both Houses remain with the Lords, except those of supply, which are sent back to the Commons, to be by the Speaker presented at the bar of the Lords for the Royal assent.

BOARD OF TRADE, THE. Considers all matters especially relating to trade and the commercial relations of our Colonies. It consists of a President, and several high officers of State, though it is practically managed by a President and Parliamentary Secretary. It has the general superintendence of all matters relating to merchant ships and seamen, and exercises a supervision over railways, the administration of the Law of Bankruptcy, the registration of Joint Stock Companies, etc. It also collects and publishes statistics of the revenue, trade, commerce, wealth, population, etc., of the United Kingdom and its dependencies, as well as of foreign countries.

BRIBERY. Both the giver and the receiver of a bribe can be put into the witness-box and be compelled to answer any questions, however they might criminate themselves. The giver must say to whom he gave, and what he gave, and where he procured the cash. The receiver must say what he received, and from whom he received it. Any person who gives or receives a bribe is disfranchised for life, and his name is to be printed at the foot of every succeeding register of voters for that place in a distinct list, headed "disqualified for bribery, treating, or undue influence." A candidate personally guilty of bribery is incompetent to sit in a Parliament for seven years. He is liable to an parliament for misdemeanour, and to be pundictment for misdemeanour, and to a misdemeanour, and to be pundictment for misdemeanour, and to an indict mention of the peace. The offences of "bribery," "treating," and "undue and corrupt in fluence" are clearly defined by statute law, and with increased stringency by the Corrupt, etc., Practices Prevention Act, 1883. The principal feature in the statute is the enforcement of a maximum scale of expenditure during an election. Expenditure above this scale is an illegal practice, punishable by fine, and by electoral and parliamentary disability. Payments by candidates for conveyance of voters is prohibited. Penalties for corrupt practices are increased; and the intervention of the Public Prosecutor at election trials is prescribed.

BUDGET, THE. Is the financial statement laid annually by the Chancellor of the Exchequer before Parliament of the estimated public income and expenditure of the following year, commencing on the 5th of April. In it he mentions what taxes it is proposed to repeal, to reduce, or augment, and what new ones are to be imposed. In his speech on this occasion the Chancellor reviews the financial condition of the country, comparing the income and expenditure of the previous year with those of preceding years, justifying the changes that are proposed to be made, and estimating their probable effects.

BURGESS. Is a person whose name appears upon the Burgess Roll of Parliamentary Boroughs.

BURGESS ROLL. Is a list kept in each borough of persons who are entitled to vote for the election of members to Parliament. Each burgess must be a male of full age, not an alien, and not have received parochial relief during the previous twelve months, or alms, or pension, or charitable allowance from the charitable tributes of the borough.

CABINET, THE. A Committee formed out of the Privy Council, which acts as the connecting link between the Crown and Parliament. It is formed of the highest officers of State, and always includes the First Lord of the Treasury, the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Pressident of the Council, the Lord Privy Seal, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the Secretaries of State, and the First Lord of the Admiralty. It also always includes three, but never more than eight, members, selected from the following functionaries:—Commissioner of Works and Buildings, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, President of the Board of Trade, Judge-Advocate-General, Postmaster-General, Chief Secretary for Ireland, President of the Local Government Board, Vice-President of the Committee of Council on Education, and President of Board of Agriculture. The members are all Privy Councillors, and being more immediately responsible for the conduct of public affairs, their deliberations are always considered confidential, and kept secret, even from their colleagues who are not in the Cabinet. Indeed, no record whatever is kept of its resolutions or meetings, nor has its existence ever been recognized by Act of Parliament. [See Ministry.]

- CALL, THE, OF THE HOUSES. When urgent business is anticipated, according to the practice of both Housesa day is appointed, when the names of the members are called over, and those who are not then present are subject to censure or punishment from the House. This practice, however, has fallen into disuse.
- CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE OF WAYS AND MEANS is elected by the House, if a difference arises in the Committee concerning the election. He presides when the House is in Committee, and sits at the table in the seat of the Clerk of the House. His vote is never given in Committee, except when, on a division, the numbers are equal. In the absence of the Speaker, he presides as Deputy Speaker, but only holds that office from day to day. He is also charged with a general superintendence over Private Bill Legislation.
- CHANCELLOR OF THE DUCHY OF LAN-CASTER. Is an officer appointed chiefly to determine controversies between the Queen and her tenants of the duchy of Lancaster.
- CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER, THE. Is the principal Finance Minister of the Crown, and exercises the chief and most responsible control over the expenditure of different branches of the public revenue, the details of which are annually submitted for revision. [See Budget.]
- CHANCELLOR, THE LORD. Is created by the will of the Sovereign, by the act of delivering the Great Seal into his custody; he Holds office during the pleasure of the Crown, but practically resigns office with his party. He is Speaker of the House of Lords, and by virtue of his office a Member of the Privy Council. He issues writs for summoning Parliament, and transacts all business connected with the custody of the Great Seal. He is principal adviser to the Crown in matters of law, President of the Supreme Court of Judicature, and head of the profession of the law. He appoints nearly all the judges of the superior courts, the judges of county courts, and all justices of the peace, and is patron of all Crown livings rated under £20. He is visitor in right of the Crown of all hospitals and colleges of Royal foundation; has the general guardianship of all infants, idiots, and lunatics; and exercises a special iurisdiction in questions relating to charities, and trust estates. He ranks above all Dukes not of the blood royal, and next to the Archebishop of Canterbury.
- CHILTERN HUNDREDS. These comprise a range of chalky hills traversing the county of Bucks, between Tring, in Hertfordshire, and Goring, in Warwickshire. Their principal summit is Wendover, which is about - 900 feet above the level of the sea. The office of "The Stewards of the Chiltern Hundreds" was established for the purpose of suppressing bands of depredators who in former times infested the forests with which he sides of these hills were covered, and it has been retained to enable members of the House of Commons to resign their seats by accepting office under the Crown. The duties and the remuneration of this office are nominal. The appointment is vested in the Chancellor of the Exchequer. The Stewardship of the Manor of Northstead is an analogous office.

- CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS. Is appointed by letters patent; performs the office of president during the election of the Speaker; sits at the upper end of tle table, with two assistants; is responsible for the record of the proceedings of the House; signs all its orders, endorses bills sent to the House of Lords, and reads aloud such documents as the House may require. The appointment of the Clerks in the service of the House is vested in this officer.
- CLERK OF THE PARLIAMENTS occupies an analogous position in the House of Lords to the Clerk of the House of Commons.
- CLOSURE OF THE DEBATE can, by Standing Order, be obtained upon the motion of any Member, unless the Speaker or the Chairman of Committees withholds his assent.
- COLONIES, SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE. Has under his control all matters connected with the government of our extensive colonial possessions.
- COMMISSIONERS. The technical name applied to the representatives of Scottish counties and boroughs.
- COMMITTALS. The House of Commons has the power to repress any aggression committed upon its privileges, and it can order into custody any person so offending. Such imprisonment, however, expires at the end of the session.
- COMMITTEE OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS, THE. Examine the accounts showing the appropriation of sums granted annually by Parliament to meet the public expenditure. It consists of eleven members, who are nominated at the commencement of each session.
- COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC PETITIONS, THE. Reports throughout the session a classified list of the petitions presented to the House, and scrutinises them for the purpose of seeing whether or not they are in order.
- COMMITTEES, STANDING. There are two, consisting of not less than 60 members, appointed by the House of Commons pursuant to Standing Order, to consider bills relating to law, trade, shipping, manufactures, agriculture, and fishing. One or more Standing Committees are similarly appointed by the House of Lords.
- COMMITTEES. Those of the whole House are generally for the purpose of considering resolutions, or the details of a bill, or for financial purposes, such as those for "Supply" or "Ways and Means." Select Committees are for specific purposes, the numbers composing which, as a rule, consist of fifteen members. Presence of strangers is generally permitted by Commons Committees while witnesses are under examination, but not while the Committee deliberates. Members are entitled to be present throughout Committee sittings, unless the House otherwise orders, or unless it be a Secret Committee. The consideration of private bills is referred to Committees consisting of four members. Under Standing Order, Select Committees can sit during the sitting of the House, except while the House is at prayers. When the whole House goes into Committee, the Speaker vacates the chair, the mace is placed under the table, and the Chairman of Ways and Means, or in his absence another member, is called on to preside.

CONFERENCE, A. Is the meeting of a delegated number of Peers and of members of the Commons' House to communicate a written message upon matters in which it is desirable that the two Houses should coperate. At a "free conference" the subject of the written message may be taken into debate. Conferences are now rarely necessary, as the Houses receive messages transmitted by their clerks; and only one "free conference" has been held since the year 1740.

CONTROVERTED ELECTIONS. The trial of election petitions is regulated by a statute which transfers the entire jurisdiction to the Courts of Law. A petition complaining of an undue election must be presented within 21 days after the return of the writ, unless it questions the return on an allegation of corrupt practices, etc., in which case it may be presented at any time within 28 days after the day of payment. It will thus be seen that the hitherto not infrequent practice of promising at the election and paying after the time had elapsed for the presentation of a petition is met by permission being given to petition between 28 days after the payment of the bribe, whensoever made. At the time of presentation of a petition, or within three days after, security for £1,000 is to be given by those who present it for payment of all costs, charges, and expenses that may become payable by the petition.

COUNT-OUT. If a member takes notice of the number present, the Speaker counts the House, and if forty members be not present, the Speaker adjourns the House without question put, till next sitting-day. [See No House.]

received any parochial relief, or who during the previous six months have been retained or employed for the purposes of any Parliamentary Election for reward.

DISSOLUTION. Is the civil death of the Parliament, and may be effected at pleasure by the Crown, or by length of time (seven years). It puts an end to the representative character of the members, and a Parliament cannot be assembled until after a general election.

DIVISION, A. Is the mode of taking the votes of each House of Parliament. When a division is demanded in the Commons, the Clerk turns a two-minute sand-glass, and the doors of the House are not closed till it has run down. Then, on the Speaker's direction, the doors are locked; he puts the question, the voices are given, and he directs the "ayes" and the "noes" to go into the right and left lobbies. Whilst passing through the lobbies, back into the House, clerks record the names of those present and the tellers count the numbers. The tellers then return to the House, and their report of the numbers is finally announced by the Speaker.

DOUBLE ELECTION. A member returned by two constituencies must within seven days after the expiration of the time limited for the presentation of petitions against the returns, elect for which he will serve.

DOUBLE RETURN. When two members are returned for one place, they are sworn and take their seats, but by the Speaker's direction withdraw below the bar; nor can they vote till the return has been adjudicated upon.

DROPPED ORDERS OF THE DAY. Are the bills or orders standing upon the order paper which were not reached, owing to an adjournment of the House. They are set down on the paper for the next sitting-day.

ELECTION AUDITOR. Is an officer appointed annually, whose duty it is to take and publish an account of all expenses incurred at elections. Any payment made in respect of an election otherwise than through this official is declared to be illegal. [See Returning Officer's Expenses.]

ELECTION OF MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT. Writs for the election of Members, on occasion of a New Parliament, are issued by the Lord Chancellor, acting upon warrant from the Queen in Council, and, during a Parliament, upon the Speaker's warrant, or by order of the House. The returning officer of each county must, within two days of the receipt of the writ, give public notice of the time and place of the said election, which must not be later than the ninth nor sooner than the fourth day after such notice. In boroughs, the officer must proceed with the election within four days after the receipt of the writ, having first given two clear days' notice. The show of hands is abolished; and election is now by nomination in writing. If at the expiration of one hour after the time appointed for the election, no more candidates are nominated than there are vacancies to fill up, the officer declares those candidates elected, and returns their names to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery. But if the candidates nominated exceed the vacancies, the officer adjourns the election, and takes the poll, by ballot papers, according to a prescribed form. The officer at the close of the poll opens the ballot boxes and counts the papers, and returns the names of those who have the majority to the Clerk of the Crown, as elected candidates. In a contested election, polling-stations are provided, with compartments to enable voters to mark their votes, screened from observation. Each of these is presided over by officers appointed by the returning officer. The polling is commenced and carried on simultaneously at all the stations. In boroughs the polling must take place within three clear days, and in counties within the third and the sixth day after the day fixed for the election. The returning officer is to give public notice "as soon as possible" of the names of the elected candidates, and of the total number of votes given for each candidate. The of votes given for each candidate. The officer then returns the writ, with the name or names of the person or persons elected endorsed thereon, "To the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery," to whom also all the documents relating to the election are deligible. livered. Immediately after a public notice of election, an elected candidate is considered to be a member of Parliament, but cannot act as a legislator until he has taken the oaths. If any military be stationed in a place where an election is taking place, they are obliged to be withdrawn until the proceedings have

ESCHEATORSHIP OF MUNSTER. [See Chiltern Hundreds.]

ESTATE OF THE REALM. The three estates of the realm are the three branches of the legislature—the Lords spiritual, the Lords temporal, and the Commons. The Sovereign, Lords, and Commons, in their united character, exercise none but legislative functions; they form the Parliament, and no bill can become law unless all concur in it. In addition, each has separate functions peculiar to itself. In the Sovereign the whole executive authority is vested. The House of Lords exercises judicial authority as a court of dernier ressort, and is a tribunal to which great officers of State, impeached by the Lower House, are amenable. The House of Commons is endowed with the sole control of the national expenditure, and with the levy of taxation to provide for that expenditure.

EXECUTIVE. [See Ministry, and also Cabinet.]

EXPULSION OF MEMBERS is a power possessed by the House of Commons. It has been exercised from time to time to free Parliament from the presence of discreditable members, such as men found guilty of forgery, perjury, etc., or as a punishment for offences committed against the House.

FRANCHISE. In law, is defined as "a Royal privilege, or a branch of the Queens' prerogative subsisting in the hands of a subject." As applied to Parliament the term means the right to vote at an election for a member of Parliament.

FREEMAN'S ROLL. Is a list of all persons admitted burgesses or freemen, who were entitled to a share or benefit of the lands and public stock of the borough before the passing of the Municipal Corporations Act, 16 and 17 Fict., c. 76.

GOVERNMENT ORDERS, are the bills brought in by the Government, and which they are entitled to place at the head of the list of orders of the day on Mondays, Thursdays, Pridays and Saturdays.

HOME DEPARTMENT, SECRETARY OF STATE FOR. The duties and responsibilities of this high officer comprehend the maintenance of the internal peace of the United Kingdom, the security of the laws, and the general supervision of matters relating to the administration of criminal justice.

House of Commons. According to the theory of the English constitution, the House of Commons represents the whole population. Although the members returned by the freeholders of the county are presumed to represent the interest concerned in agriculture; and the members returned by towns have their attention most directed towards the interests of trade; yet it is unconstitutional to suppose that members are delegates of any special community. Each member is held to represent the interests of the nation. The proceedings of the Commons are regulated by standing orders, the permanent bye-laws of the House, by sessional orders renewed laws of the House, by sessional orders renewed annually, and by the custom of Parliament, as embodied in rules and regulations established by usage, or laid down in the journals. The following is an outline of parliamentary practice:—No motion for the grant of public money may be presently entered upon; but must be put to the vote on a future day in a Committee of the whole House, having received the previous recom-mendation of the Crown. Notice, as a rule, must be given of every motion, and, except in committee, it must be seconded. There must never be more than one question before the House at the same time. However many amendments may be proposed upon a motion, each one is separately disposed of. If there be a majority for any words standing part of a question to be put to the House, then a vote is taken on the question with these words in it. In case of the rejection of every amendment, then the original proposal, whatever it may be motion or bill, is put to the vote, stripped of all the counter proposals which the debate has called forth. No member can thus be driven to vote for what he does not approve; for after having voted in favor of such amendments as he may propose to the original question, he can vote against it in the end. No motion or bill may be offered upon which a judgment has been expressed during the current session; a resolution may, however, be rescinded, or an order of the House discharged. A bill that has passed both Houses contains all the sentences and worder composing the Act of has passed both Houses contains all the sentences and words composing the Act of Parliament to which the Royal Assent is given. When a member speaks, it must be to some question before the House, or to introduce a question. The mover of a substantive motion is permitted a reply, and those who have spoken to the original question may speak again when an amendquestion may speak again when an amendment or a new question, such as the adjournment of the debate, has been proposed; but otherwise no one is entitled to more than one opportunity of speaking on a question, except when the House is in Committee. No member may call another by his name; if it is desired to call personar action to him, he must be individualized by the place he represents. Any member may the place he "rising to order," i.e., interrupt another by "rising to order," i.e., calling the attention of the chair to the fact that a breach of order was then being committed. It is out of order for a member to refer to debates in the House of Lords. No bill is converted into law unless it has received the duly expressed approval of both Houses and has received the Royal Assent. All public bills which affect taxes or duties, to the most trifling amount, can only begin with the Commons. Bills for restitution of honours and in blood begin in the Peers. A member who moves the adjournment of a debate is by courtesy entitled to speak first when the debate is resumed. But this rule does not apply to the renewal of debate in a Committee of the whole House. For the sake of convenience, certain partiesministerial, opposition, or otherwise—group themselves on benches which they appropriate to themselves. When several members rise to address the House, the Speaker or Chairman signifies who shall have precedence. Reference to the opinions of the Sovereign to influence a decision of the House is irregular. Forty is the quorum of the Commons,

On any person presenting his ti ket of admission he is required to sign his name and write his address, which must correspond with the name and address as contained in the written application and entered on the counterfoil. Applications for admission may be made for a week in advance. In cases of casual vacancies occurring during the sitting of the House, applications are to be made to the Serjeant-at-Arms, in the same form as that prescribed in the preceding regulations.

It is indispensable that those Ministers who are not Peers should be members of Parliament. NOTICES OF MOTION. The notice of an intended motion must as a rule appear on the business paper of the House on the day when it is to be moved. PREMIER, THE. Is the head of Her Majesty's Government, is the connecting link between the Crown and the Cabinet, selects his colleagues in the Ministry, and is virtually responsible for the entire patronage of the Crown. His official position is usually that of First Lord of the Treasury.

PREVIOUS QUESTION, THE. Is a mode of attempting to avoid a direct expression of opinion upon a motion. It is effected in the House of Lords by proposing, in lieu of the original motion, a motion "that the original question be now put." A vote is taken on this, and if negatived the original motion is practically rejected; although the motion might be proposed again at a subsequent sitting. In the Commons the method of procedure is reversed, and the form adopted is "that that question be not now put."

PRIVATE BILLS. Are those introduced by companies or individuals for the purpose of enabling them to undertake works of utility at their own risk, and for their own benefit, or for procuring naturalization, change of name, etc. Private bills are brought in upon petitions signed by the suitors or their agents. The fees payable for promoting or opposing a private bill are stated in the Standing Orders. [See Bills, Public.]

PRIVILEGE, A QUESTION OF, is founded on a matter directly concerning the privileges of the House recently arisen, and calling for its immediate interposition. Such a matter may be considered without notice, and takes precedence of all other business.

PRIVILEGES OF MEMBERS, Every member is entitled to freedom of speech, to freedom from arrest and distress of goods, and to exemption from service on juries. He can introduce one person daily to the Members' Gallery. [See Members' Gallery.]

PROCEDURE. [See House of Commons.]

PROPERTY QUALIFICATION OF MEMBERS was abolished in 1858.

PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT. Is an interruption of its sitting by Royal authority, and the Crown may, notwithstanding the prorogation, summon it for the despatch of business, by giving six days' notice by proclamation. Parliament is never prorogued for more than 80 days at one time, but this period can be extended by subsequent proclamation. Every bill and other proceeding, save impeachments, must be renewed de novo after a prorogation. By an Act passed in the year 1867, the Crown may prorogue Parliament by proclamation only, and without any subsequent writ or commission, but the Act does not apply to prorogation at the close of a Session.

PUBLIC BILLS. [See Bills, Public.]

PUBLIC WORKS, THE BOARD OF. Is responsible for the Public Buildings of Great Britain. It is controlled by a Chief Commissioner, who represents the Department in Parliament.

QUESTION, A. Is a motion moved and seconded, and put by the Speaker to the House as a question for their decision.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS. Overseers' notices must be served in counties and boroughs on or before the both June. Notices of claims on or before July both in counties, and Aug. 25th in boroughs. Lists are made up in counties on the 31st July, and notices of objection must be served on or before Aug. 20th in counties, and Aug. 25th in boroughs. Courts of Revision are held in counties between Sept. 35th and Oct. 31st, and in boroughs between Sept. 15th and Oct. 31st.

REPORTING. A gallery is set apart for the exclusive use of newspaper reporters. It is, however, contrary to ancient usage that strangers should be present. Therefore the publication of parliamentary debates remains, theoretically, a breach of privilege.

RESIGNATION OF SEATS. [See Vacating Seats.]

RETURNING OFFICER'S EXPENSES.
The charges of the returning officer are to be paid by the candidate (or persons proposing a candidate without his consent) in equal proportions. The charges are regulated by statute. The candidate cannot, without rendering his election voidable, pay the returning officer more than his authorized charges.

REVISING BARRISTER. Is an officer appointed annually for the purpose of revising the registered list of voters.

ROYAL ASSENT, THE. The Act by which the bills that have passed the Houses of Parliament become law, and without which they are null, constitutes one of the highest prerogatives of the Crown, and is a bona fade exercise of legislative function, though there has not been an instance of its being withheld since the year 1707. The Royal Assent is either given by the Sovereign in person, or by Commissioners appointed for that special purpose. The Commissioners are usually three or four of the high officers of State. As soon as the Royal Assent has been given, the Bill immediately becomes an Act, having the effect and force of law.

SCOT AND LOT. Parish payments. When persons were taxed not to the same amount, but according to their ability, they were said to pay "scot and lot."

SCOTLAND, THE SECRETARY FOR.
Has the control of all matters connected with Scotland.

SELECTION, THE COMMITTEE OF.
Nominates the members on, and arranges the sitting and business of private-bill committees, and is also charged with the nomination of the Standing Committees.

SENIOR MEMBER, THE. Is the member returned at the head of the poll, not the member who has served the constituency the longest time.

SERJEANT-AT-ARMS, THE. Is an officer appointed by patent under the Great Seal, attached to the House, who is styled "the Serjeant-at-Arms attending the Speaker of the House of Commons." He is assisted by a deputy and several subordinates. During the sitting of the House he occupies a chair below the bar, and to him is delegated the maintenance of order in the approaches to the House and the adjoining offices. His duties are performed under the directions of the House, communicated to him by the Speaker. He apprehends and retains in custody all persons committed by order of the House.

Session. The Session of Parliament continues from the time of its meeting until it is either prorogued or dissolved. The House of Commons limits to one year the duration of the Mutiny Act, and votes the supplies for the public service by grants limited to the current year. The Crown is therefore compelled to resort to an annual assemblage of Parliament which usually takes place early in February. Six days at least, but generally thirty or forty days, previous to the intended meeting, a proclamation is issued by the Crown, commanding the attendance of both Houses for despatch of business, usually at Westminster, but it may be at any place within the United Kingdom. The business usually transacted at the commencement of every Session is to consider the Speech from the Throne. One Bill, however, always receives a first reading, in order to assert the right of Parliament to protect the interests of the people before considering the subjects contained in the Royal Speech. No number or length of adjournments destroys the continuity of the Session. [See also Prorogation.]

SESSIONAL ORDERS are agreed to at the commencement of each Session, and are not intended to continue beyond that period.

SOIT FAIT COMME IL EST DESIRE. The words in which the Royal Assent is given to Private Bills.

SOLICITOR-GENERAL. Is the legal adviser of the Crown, who ranks next to but holds co-ordinate powers with the Attorney-General.

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS. Is the representative of its powers, proceedings, and dignity. His chief duties are to preside over the deliberations of the House, to put the question, and declare the deter-mination of the House. In the conduct of the debates, the Speaker calls on those members to address the House who, in his opinion, are entitled to precedence; he promptly and decisively represses disorder, and gives effect to the rules and regulations of the House. When he rises to enforce a point of order, the House is immediately silent; and his decision, based as far as possible on precedent, is, as a rule, accepted without cavil. But still the ultimate authority, upon all points, is the House itself. He also presents to the Sovereign addresses from the Commons; reprimands persons who have incurred the displeasure of the House; issues warrants of committed for breach of privilege; com-nunicates with any parties, when so instructed by the House; exercises a general control over the business of the House, both public and private; expresses the thanks or approbation of the Commons to distinguished per sonages; adjourns the House if forty members are not present, and appoints Tellers on division. Under the Standing Orders, the Speaker may withhold his assent to a motion Speaker may withhold his assent to a motion for the closing of a debate; he may, after continued irrelevance on the part of a member, direct him to discontinue his speech, or if a motion for adjournment be, in his opinion, an abuse of the forms of the House. the Speaker may forthwith put the question thereon. The Speaker may also direct a Member, whose conduct is grossly disorderly, to withdraw during the remainder of that day's sitting. He does not speak, except in his official capacity, or in Committees of the whole House; nor does he vote except to give a casting vote when the numbers are equal. He is elected at the commencement of each Parliament, and holds office until a dissolution. He gives state dinners to as many of the House as he can entertain, between the commencement of the Session and the Easter holidays. He receives a salary of £5,000 a year, and has a furnished residence; is a member of the Privy Council, and ranks next after Barons. It is customary for the Speaker, on retiring from office, to be created a peer, and to receive a pension of £2,000 a year. When incapacitated from attending to his duties, his place is occupied by the Chairman of Ways and Means.

SPEECHES may not be read in the House by members.

STANDING COMMITTEES. [See Committees,]

STANDING ORDERS. Are for the permanent guidance and order of proceedings. They have been agreed to at various times, and if not repealed endure in force from one Parliament to another. One of these orders has been in force since March 20th, 1707.

STRANGERS, ADMISSION OF. going to the offices of the House, on business, are admitted at such offices at all times When the committees and Courts of Appeal are not sitting, none but persons going to the offices of the House are admitted; all others are stopped at the door of St. Stephen's Hall. When committees and Courts of Appeal are sitting, persons proceeding to them are permitted to enter the Committee Rooms, Courts of Appeal, and offices pertaining thereto only. During the sitting of the House no visitor is admitted to the Central Hall, unless he wishes to see a member, or has a ticket of admission to one of the galleries. No persons, except those having such tickets of admission, are permitted to go beyond the central and lower waiting alls, nor to enter the dining, tea, and smoking rooms, nor to go on the terrace, even though accompanied by a member. The Members' Lobby is strictly reserved for peers and members only, and for such permanent officials, secretaries of Ministers, and others, whose names are placed by the Speaker on a special list. Parliamentary agents are admitted to the Members' Lobby till half-past five o'clock p.m. None but till hall-past live o clock p.m. None but ladies having their names on the list are permitted to enter the Ladies' Gallery Door, in the Speaker's Yard. After four o'clock p.m. the subway under Bridge Street may be closed to all but members or persons going on business to the House.

SUPPLY, COMMITTEE OF. A Committee of the whole House, which considers the Government resolutions for granting to the Crown the sums necessary for conducting the various branches of the public service. These resolutions, having been considered and agreed to by the House, receive effect by Consolidated Fund Acts, passed from time to time during the session, subject, at its close, to a final appropriation to the services of the year by the "Appropriation Bill," which, after it has passed the House of Lords, is carried by the Speaker to the bar of the Upper House to receive the Royal Assent. The business of Supply is the first order of the day on Friday, unless otherwise ordered by the House. Not more than 20 days, being days before the 5th of August, are allotted for the consideration of the annual estimates for the Army, Navy, and Givil Services, including votes on account. An additional 3 days either before or after 5th of August may be allotted for the business of Supply on motion made after notice by a Minister of the Crown.

SUSPENSION from the service of the House for a week, or for longer periods of time, is a punishment, in pursuance of a standing order, imposed on members who have been named by the Speaker or the Chairman of Committees, for an infraction of the rules of the House of Commons.

TELLER. Is a member appointed by the Speaker when a division takes place, to count the number of members voting for or against a motion. Two are appointed for each side.

"THAT I DO NOW LEAVE THE CHAIR,"
Is the question put by the Speaker on the occasions when it is needful, prior to the whole House going into Committee.

"THAT THE ORDERS OF THE DAY BE NOW READ." That the House proceed to the business of the day without further decision taking place on the motion then under discussion.

"THAT THIS BILL BE COMMITTED."

The question that is put to the House immemediately after the second reading.

"THAT THIS BILL DO PASS." This question is not now put to the House after a bill has been read a third time.

"THIS DAY SIX (OR THREE) MONTHS."
The motion that a bill be read a second time upon this day six months, is the ordinary mode of moving its rejection.

TIME OF MEETING. The House meets on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thussdays, and Fridays at three o'clock [prior to 1888 it met at a quarter before four o'clock for about the period of a century], when the Chaplain reads prayers. The Speaker, then seated at the Clerk's table, counts the House, and if forty members be present at three o'clock, the galleries are opened, and the business of each sitting is conducted according to the following routine: from three till half-past is devoted to the consideration of private bills and the reception of public petitions; at half-past three notices of motions on future days are given, and a ballot taken to settle the precedence of those motions, and unopposed motions for returns are moved; this over, questions are asked of members of the Government respecting matters of a public nature, and then the regular business of the sitting is commenced, namely, the consideration of the orders or motions set down for that day.

TREATING. [See Bribery.]

UNDER SECRETARIES OF STATE. Two of these are attached to the office of each Secretary of State, one being usually permanent, and the other dependent upon the administration in power.

UNDUE INFLUENCE. [See Bribery.]

UNION, THE. Denotes the act by which the two separate kingdoms of England and Scotland were incorporated into one under the title of the Kingdom of Great Britain. The first Parliament subsequent to the Union met Oct. 23rd, 1707. The Union of Great Britain and Ireland took place on January 18t, 1801.

VACATING SEATS. By accepting an office of emolument from the Crown, a member at once vacates his seat. It is customary for a member who wishes to resign, to apply for the sinecure Stewardship of Her Majesty's Chiltern Hundreds, or of the Manor of Northstead.

WAR, THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR. Has the general control and direction of the army, in which he is assisted by the Commander-in-Chief.

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS, THE. Are the entries printed and published daily of the transactions of the House made at the table by the clerks, from which the journals are compiled.

WAYS AND MEANS, COMMITTEE OF, A Committee of the whole House, which regulates the issue of public money, to meet the grants voted in the Committee of Supply, and sanctions the imposition of the taxes necessary for the service of the current year. The votes of the Commons affecting the imposition of taxes take immediate effect in anticipation of the statutes necessary to make those votes a law. The Lords have the power to reject any bill that passes through their House; but the exercise of this power as regards a bill touching taxation, is "justly regarded by this House with peculiar jealousy," as was resolved by the Commons, July 1860, after rejection of the Paper Duty Repeal Bill by the Lords in that year. [See Chairman of Committee on Ways and Means.]

WEDNESDAY SITTING. The House meets every Wednesday at twelve o'clock. Wednesday is set apart to the bills brought in by private members, and, unless previously adjourned, continues to sit until six o'clock p.m. (no opposed business being taken after half-past hve), when the Speaker adjourns the House without putting any question, and the business under discussion, or undisposed of, stands among the orders of the day for the next sitting of the House.

WRITS. In the event of a vacancy arising from death, or from becoming a Peer, or acceptance of office, other than the Stewardship of the Chiltern Hundreds, etc., during the recess of Parliament, a writ is issued by warrant from the Speaker, made out to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, as soon as the Speaker is notified of the death, or peerage, by a certificate under the hands of two members, coupled in the case of acceptance of office, with a notice thereof from the member himself. During the session the Speaker issues his warrant by order of the House upon motion made and agreed to. In the case of a new Parliament the original issue of writs lies with the Crown. Writs returnable for a county are sent to the Sheriff of the county, and those that relate to cities or boroughs are sent direct to the Returning Officers. By the Act of William III. it was ordered that the writs of summons should be "delivered to the proper officer." but no channel was pointed out for their delivery. In 1813, however, it was provided that the messenger, or pursuivant, of the Great Seal, or his deputy, after receiving the writs, should forthwith carry them to the General Post Office in London, and there deliver them to the Postmaster-General or his deputy, receiving an acknowledgment thereof in writing. The Postmaster-General, in his turn, is bound to despatch the writs by the first post; the Returning Officers are required, upon receiving them, to give an acknowledgment, setting forth the day and hour of delivery; and this memorandum is transmitted to the General Post Office in London, and filed there for reference. The London writs are delivered personally by the Messenger of the Great Seal.

St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, is the church of the House of Commons, and Members of Parliament are always entitled to seats therein.

CONSTITUTION OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

At the time of the Union with Scotland, in 1707, the House consisted of 513 members; 45 were then added for Scotland, and in 1801, 100 were added for Ireland, making the total of 658. This number was preserved by the Reform Acts of 1832 and 1868, but in each case the apportionment was altered, and in 1885 it nominally stood—England and Wales 493, Scotland 60, and Ireland 105, but by the disfranchisement of Beverley (2), Bridgwater (2), Cashel (1), and Sligo (1), the total representation was reduced to 652 members. The result of the Redistribution of Seats Act 1885 was to increase the total number of members elected for counties, boroughs and universities to 670, distributed as follows:—

The Writer of the Series of Articles which appeared in the "Saturday Review" over that signature,

THE book will be found to contain, in full, the Warrants, Acts of Parliaments, Judgments, etc., which were only incidentally referred to in the Articles themselves. These are supplemented by the quotation of many "Letters Patent" and Grants—ancient and modern supplemented by the quotation of many between Factors and studied. It is briskly written and, in spite of its "The Right to bear Arms 'is certainly a book to be read and studied. It is briskly written, and, in spite of its subject-matter, nowhere duil, while the facts and conclusions dealt with and arrived at are marshalled with skill, and, in places, even with brilliancy. . The author has done much to unveil the truth as to matters armorial, and will receive the thanks of all who genuinely ears about these and kindred matters."—Literature.

"The book is excellent reading, and carries conviction with it. Its pages are full of interest throughout."—

The book is excellent reasonable. We cordially recommend this little book to those who are ignorant of such matters, and are not above learning something of the elementary rules of heraldry, even though they may be certain of their own right to use arms. The book is forcibly and cleary written, the arguments are unanswerable and supported by extracts from ancient documents, and many common delusions about arms are exposed — Speciator.

NATIONAL INCORPORATED WAIFS' ASSOCIATION

Otherwise known as DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES.

Over 5,300 Orphan or Waif Children are now under the care of the Homes constituting the Largest Family in the whole World. Among these there are 725 LITTLE INCURABLES, Deaf and Dumb, Blind, Crippled or otherwise Afflicted Children. EIGHT SOULS are added every 24 hours to this Great Family.

41,805 Waifs have already been rescued by the Homes. Of these 11,591 trained Boys and Girls have been successfully placed out in Canada and the Colonies, and more than 24,000 sent to Sea, or PLACED IN SITUATIONS in Great Britain, etc.

Some conception of the extent of this Christian and National Wo k may be formed from the fact that during the last Two Years no fewer than 6,031 Fresh Cases have been freely admitted—a number probably in excess of admissions in the same time by all other existing Societies put together.

No really Destitute Child has ever been refused admission.

The Doors are oven to the Homeless FREELY, Day and Niga all the year round. There is no Waiting List. No eligible case is ever rejected on the ground of age, sex, creed, nationality, or physical condition; or, on account of want of funds.

Even the Smallest Gifts will be gratsfully received.
